Good morning –

My name is Sarah and I am reaching out on behalf of ABC News. I was wondering if there were any arrests reported during last evenings rally on campus. Any information you can provide would be appreciated. I have reached out to Charlottesville Police who directed me to your office; if there is a media relations spokesperson I should be in contact with instead, please let me know. Hoping for a safe day for all of your officers today.

Thanks,

Dear all:

You likely already know this, but if not...Louis Nelson, copied on this message, just received an informal call alerting him to the possibility of an alt-right march on-Grounds this evening, beginning at a Jefferson statue (not sure which one) to St. Paul's Church, coinciding with the prayer service this evening. Just wanted to alert you to this possibility. If you have questions, please contact Louis directly...his cell is [REDACTED]. Best,

Is there anyway we could get at least one security personnel over to Newcomb Hall to make sure everything goes OK? Perhaps around 930? I feel certain that everything on grounds has passed for the moment but our young female dean who is conducting the session is worried. I want to make sure folks are safe and protected. I will meet her over there but security would make us both feel better.

Officer Gibson,

I am the Student Council Vice President, Alex Cintron, and I am emailing on behalf of Sarah. I'm sure you are aware but students have been sharing on social media about a torch rally that participants of the Unite the Right rally are planning to have at 9:30pm near the Rotunda tonight. Many students are alarmed and I was wondering if there is any safety information I can distribute to other student leaders and the student body at large? Please let me know if there is anything Student Council can do.

Dear all,

I apologize for not getting this out earlier today. Shortly before 5 pm today we lost two pilots with the Virginia State Police Aviation Unit who were here supporting us with the events in Charlottesville when their helicopter crashed. The pilots were Lieutenant H. Jay Cullen and Trooper-Pilot Burke M. M. Bates. While I have not seen anything yet from the VACP on shrouding our badges, I am sure we will so please honor the memory of these two public safety professionals by shrouding your badges. I will provide more information as it becomes available.

Thanks,

Mike
